WELCOME to the Egmont Publishing New Titles Catalogue 2019

Egmont’s company purpose is to make every child a proud reader, because reading for pleasure is more important than wealth or family background when it comes to a child fulfilling their potential. It is this good for society and good for the economy. It is also critical for the health of the children’s book market, where print sales still dominate but where the competition from other media for the attention of children and the spread of parents grows ever stronger.

This mission underpins our broad and inclusive portfolio of child-friendly picture books, fiction, non-fiction and brands for children of all ages, from the most reluctant readers to the most enthusiastic. We aim to publish books that reflect the passions, experiences and interests of all children in our society. This commitment is supported by Egmont’s ground-breaking and influential research into reading for pleasure, which you can read about on our website Egmont.co.uk. Our studies address the barriers to reading and book buying and find the solutions, so that we can collaborate with all partners to grow the children’s book market and spread the joyful of reading to more families.

I am delighted to share with you the new books that bring to life this mission in 2019. Highlights includes our biggest ever year for Amelia Fang by Laura Ellen Anderson (page 34), the hottest gaming brand Roblox (pages 2 – 3) and Speak Up! by Laura Coryton (page 81), which will inspire teenagers from all backgrounds to use their voice.

Fiction – Turning debut writers into successful authors

We are delighted to welcome acclaimed author, Jenny McLachlan to our list with her new middle-grade novel The Land of Rain (page 36), a step inside a child’s imaginary world of dragons, mermaids and wacky wizards, and ride to the spine-tingling climax that will make your heart soar.

We love funny, fiction – and so do children. That’s why we are excited to be publishing books 4 and 5 in Laura Ellen Anderson’s popular Amelia Fang series (page 34), supported by a major marketing campaign and international tour. It’s also why we cannot wait for Andy Stanton’s hilarious new series The Paninis of Pompeii (page 30), to hit the shelves alongside a bold new look for his bestselling Mr Gum series (page 37). And there’s more from everyone’s favourite Laser in Barry Laser and the Trouble with Pets (page 38), the new book in Jim Smith’s hits with UK sales of 400k copies.

Egmont’s Fiction list has a long and successful track record of finding and developing new writers that children will love to read. Holly Jackson’s A Good Girl’s Guide To Murder (page 42), a compulsive and funny crime thriller, will have side- readers skewered to their seats. This brilliant debut was the talk of YALC 2018 and is already making waves internationally. And children will fall in love with A Pocketful of Stars (page 38), the upper middle-grade debut from rising star Aisha Bushby, which draws on rich Kuwaiti culture and has an unexpected magical twist . . .

Picture Book & Gift – Stories to delight, ideas to inspire young minds

We love stories about books so much that we’ve got two of them in 2019: The Book Without a Story (page 70) by Carolina Rabei – Toy Story set in a library – and The World Book Day Monster (page 65) by Adam and Charlotte Guillain and Ada Gray, every special celebration of one of the best days in a year and a reminder of why bookshops are so important. Publishing in time for International Women’s Day is Captain Sparklebeard (page 63), Tim Knapman and Sam Lloyd’s gender-stereo-typing-smashing picture book with an original contemporary twist. And for fans of Rob Beudreu’s reimagining of the classic Flat Stanley series (page 66), we will be publishing his glorious picture book adaptation.

Children and their parents still love print books over digital, and we have two that celebrate the physical pleasure of sharing a book: Sophie Hens’s Lifestyle Dinosaur (page 63) features a one-metre long fold-out T. Rex jaw, and River Stories (page 65), a gift book about the myths and legends surrounding some of the world’s most important rivers, has five one-metre long gatefolds, plus exquisite artwork by Ashling Lindsay.

DID YOU KNOW?

MAGAZINES
- Egmont is the biggest specialist children’s publisher in the UK with 24% share of the children’s magazine market. With 13 magazines Egmont have something for every reader from pre-school, primary boys and girls to pre-teens. The home of big brands, Egmont’s portfolio includes Thomas the Tank Engine, Disney Princess, LEGO, Paw Patrol, Toxic and Go Girl.

ETHICAL PUBLISHING
- Egmont Publishing uses paper from sustainable sources, and our high safety standards guarantee that our products are always safe for young people. We only work with suppliers who conform to our strict ethical code of conduct.

CONSUMER INSIGHT
- Our consumer insight research programme puts children, and their parents, at the heart of our publishing. Through a range of exciting studies we focus on truly understanding children’s development and what engages, excites and motivates them to read.
- We are particularly interested in children’s reading for pleasure, and in appreciating why it thrives in some families while in others it struggles. We investigate the impact of the digital world, family life, school and learning to read, to understand how these can all help (as well as hinder) children’s reading for pleasure.
- Our insights are fed into our strategy, publishing, sales and marketing, with the goal of inspiring all children to read. We aim to offer something for every type of reader from the reluctant to the occasional to the eager, to help all children become proud readers.

WHAT IF YOUR IMAGINARY WORLD BECAME REAL?

When Arthur and Rose were little, they were heroes in the Land of Roar, an imaginary world that they found by climbing through the folding bed in their grandad’s attic. Roar was filled with things they loved – dragons, mermaids, ninja wizards and adventure – as well as things that scared them (including a very creepy scarecrow…)

Now the twins are eleven, Roar is just a memory. But when they help Grandad clean out the attic, Arthur is horrified as Grandad is pulled into the folding bed and vanishes. Is he playing a joke? Or is Roar… real?

• A warm, laugh-out-loud, accessible celebration of the power of imagination
• Strong hooks; child-friendly themes – and a really scary baddie!
• Reminiscent of Peter Pan, The Neverending Story and Jumanji – perfect for readers of Nevermoor and Wizards of Once
• Sequel to follow in 2020

Jenny McLachlan is the acclaimed author of the Ladybirds series for teens. This is her middle-grade debut

• A gorgeous wraparound package, illustrated by Ben Mantle, with a colour map on the inside cover flaps and magical artwork inside

FUNNIER. RUDER. ANGRIER. IZZY O’NEILL IS BACK IN THE HILARIOUS SEQUEL TO THE EXACT OPPOSITE OF OKAY

It’s been two months since a leaked explicit photo got Izzy involved in a political sex scandal – and the aftershock is far from over. The Bitches Bite Back movement is gathering momentum as a forum for teenage feminists, and when another girl from school has a sex tape shared online, once again Izzy leads the charge against the slut-shamers. This time she wants to change the state law on revenge porn.

Izzy and her best friend Ajita are as hilarious as ever, using comedy to fight back against whatever the world throws at them, but Izzy is still reeling from her slut-shaming ordeal, feeling angry beyond belief and wondering – can they really make a change?

For readers of The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas, Doing It by Hannah Witton and The Spinster Club series by Holly Bourne.

FROM TWO EXTRAORDINARY AUTHORS COMES A MOVING, EXUBERANT, LAUGH-OUT-LOUD NOVEL ABOUT FRIENDSHIP AND FAMILY, TOLD IN EMAILS AND LETTERS

Avery (Night Owl) is bookish, intense, likes to plan ahead, and is afraid of many things. Bett (Dogfish) is fearless, outgoing, and lives in the moment. What they have in common is that they are both twelve years old, and their dads are dating each other.

Bett and Avery are sent, against their will, to the same camp for the summer vacation. Their dads hope that they will find common ground and become friends – and possibly, one day, even sisters.

Against all odds, the girls soon can’t imagine a life without each other. But when the worst happens, and their dads break up, Avery and Bett must figure out a way to get them to fall in love again. Is keeping a family together as easy as they think it is?

• The Parent Trap for a new generation, featuring two gay dads and a blended family
• A film deal has been concluded – details to be announced soon
• Standout characters Avery and Bett will have all readers identifying as either a Night Owl or a Dogfish
• Meg Wolitzer is the NYT bestselling author of many novels, including The Female Persuasion and The Wife (major film adaptation in 2018), Holly Goldberg Sloan is a NYT bestselling children’s author, best known for Counting By 7s, Short and the award winning I’ll Be There

GET INTO TROUBLE WITH THE WORLD'S NAUGHTIEST UNICORN IN THIS HILARIOUS NEW SERIES

Mira CAN'T WAIT to start Unicorn School, but when she arrives on her first day, her name isn't on the list and all the unicorns are already taken . . . except Dave!

Dave isn’t quite the sparkly unicorn Mira was expecting to find at the end of the rainbow – he’s more grumpy than glittery, more interested in lunch than magical quests and he always runs off when Mira tries to ride him – but Mira’s not going to let that get her down. Along with her new friends and their (much more glittery) unicorns, she is determined to be the best at quests and save the Rainbow Forest (and stop for lots of snacks!).

- Uniting the ever-popular, glittery world of unicorns and rainbows with a comedy voice – for fans of Pamela Butchart, the Worst Witch and unicorns
- Hilarious illustrations from David O'Connell
- Strong series momentum. Three books publishing in 2019

A HILARIOUS NEW COMEDY SERIES ABOUT FAMILY, FRIENDSHIP AND . . . FISHTAILS!

Molly McGowan’s dull seaside life is turned upside down when she turns 13 and is let in on the family secret: she’s part-mermaid! Her sisters love their glittery underwater life, which mostly consists of swimming around after hot mermen, and they can’t wait for Molly to join in their How-to-be-a-Mermaid lessons. But Molly is not so sure: growing up is hard enough without having to worry about sprouting a fish tail at random moments.

But when her littlest sister is fishnapped, Molly must dive in and be the best mermaid she can. The McGowan sisters set off on a mission to reunite their family, save the merworld and see if they can be together for longer than five minutes without arguing – will they do it? You’ll have to wait and SEA . . .

- A laugh-out-loud comedy full of heart that dives head first into the mermaid trend
- Laura Mae is the middle-grade pseudonym for Laura Steven who is a rising star and huge comedy talent, making this the new must-have funny series
- Perfect for 9+ fans of Louise Rennison, Lightning Girl and Dork Diaries
- Nothing glittery or cute – this is about the normal embarrassments of an otherwise ordinary life, amplified by a very big fishy secret
STRANGER THINGS MEETS PULLMAN’S NORTHERN LIGHTS IN THIS DARK AND MAGICAL SEQUEL TO THE FANTASY ADVENTURE THE CRADLE OF ALL WORLDS

Jane Doe must reunite the three cradle keys to save her world—but she is starting to understand what this really means. The Makers poured all their energy into the Cradle to save the Manor. And Jane may just have to do the same. This quest may cost her her life.

Fans of Phillip Pullman’s Dark Materials, Rick Riordan’s Percy Jackson adventures, Frances Hardinge and the Netflix blockbuster Stranger Things will love this heart-pounding and spell-binding middle-grade adventure with its nod to the classic 80s movies The Goonies and Indiana Jones.

- Warm and accessible humour that is massively appealing to its 10+ readership, diverse characters, a strong female protagonist and probably the best book villain OF ALL TIME
- Acquired together with sister company Hardie Grant who were part of a hotly-contested auction that resulted in a six-figure deal
- The duology has sold around the world and a US publisher is on board for a global launch

THE EXPLOSIVE FOLLOW-UP TO MONSTER AND VILLAIN BY BESTSELLING AUTHOR MICHAEL GRANT...

Vector may just be the deadliest enemy Dekka and the group will ever face.

He is a swarm of disease-bearing insects. His victims are hit with a wide range of supercharged diseases, and are then unable to die, but go on and on in a living hell.

With Sam, Astrid and Edilio back to help them, they form a team known as the Rockborn Gang. They also have a new member: Simone. A blue skinned punk who can fly.

But Vector is only just the beginning, and the Rockborn Gang are forced to question if everything they’ve gone through until now is even real.

- The darkest book yet in the third instalment in the highly anticipated Monster series and a must read for GONE fanatics – but no knowledge of GONE is required to enjoy the series
- GONE is a million-selling series in the UK – globally sales have reached nearly 4 million
- The multidimensional cast of heroes and villains is diverse with transgender, cisgender and gay characters that are at the forefront of the story
- X-Men meets Godzilla, with the perfect amount of horror

THE STUNNING NEW NOVEL FROM AWARD-WINNING KEVIN BROOKS

When fifteen-year-old Kenzie wakes up in hospital in a darkened room, she's also in the dark about what has happened.

At first, no one will tell her what's wrong – but eventually doctors break the devastating news that she has been struck down by a rare genetic condition. The symptom of this condition is that her skin has become transparent, revealing everything inside of her. She feels repellent to look at. But when a medical photo of her is leaked and goes viral, the press attention is massive.

How can Kenzie live like this, when she doesn't want to be seen at all? Maybe a boy who can't see her will help her to find the answers.

- A commercial concept and Kevin's stunning writing make this an unmissable read
- Kevin's awards include the Carnegie Medal, German Youth Literature Award, the Buxtehude Bulle, the Branford Boase Award and the Canongate Prize for New Writing
- Will appeal to readers of Kevin's previous novels Being and iBoy

THEREIN LIES THE BRILLIANCE OF ANDREW SMITH. HE SOMEHOW ALWAYS FINDS A WAY TO TURN THE READER INSIDE OUT, BY GROUNDING THE FARCICAL OR TURNING MAD SCIENCE AND VOMIT INTO ART
- New York Times Book Review

Cager has been transported to the Tennessee, a giant lunar-cruise ship, to help him shake his Woz addiction. Meanwhile, Earth, in the midst of thirty simultaneous wars, burns to ash beneath them. As the robots on board The Tennessee become increasingly insane and cannibalistic, and Earth becomes a toxic wasteland, Cager and his friends have to wonder if they'll be stranded alone in space forever.

In his new novel, Andrew Smith, Printz Honor author of Grasshopper Jungle, will make you laugh, cry, and consider what it really means to be human.

A SENSITIVELY CRAFTED STORY ABOUT LOSS, FROM AWARD-WINNING PERFORMANCE POET, JOSEPH COELHO

When I’m alone I talk the birds out of the sky, I talk the leaves off the trees, I talk the stars out of the Milky Way. I talk of darkness and tears, of loneliness and fears . . . I talk and talk and I’M NOT SHY.

- This uplifting story is told through the eyes of a child. Dealing with big themes, it is a great way to engage children in discussions about their emotions.
- Approximately 40,000 children are bereaved of a parent each year according to the Childhood Bereavement Network, so a book like Alone is essential for helping children explore their emotions.
- Authentic voice featuring BAME lead character.
- Joseph Coelho won the CLPE CLiPPA Poetry Award 2015 for his debut poetry collection.

USE YOUR VOICE TO CHANGE THE WORLD

How to Speak Up and Change the World

Before I started my campaign, I had no idea what I was doing. I didn’t have training, I don’t have any campaigning superpowers or global politician parents to help me. I’m really pretty ordinary. So if I can do it, so can you, by using my Five-Step Toolkit for change.

This book outlines the key steps you need to take to change the world. Together, we will get specific.

I had a lot of success in my campaign, but I also had a lot of knockbacks. I think it’s really important to talk about failing and how to bounce back. It’s not easy, but with help I managed it. We’ll also cover a very modern and very unpleasant phenomenon: trolls. As horrific as trolls are, there are many awesome women in the public eye who are handling them like true badasses – we’ll meet them in chapter 8.
